JOHN MCCARTHY UPSET PLANS OF CASEMENT PLOT

Irish Farmer, Walking on Beach, Saw Boat and Notified Garrison; Capture Soon Followed.

LEADER PROTESTED ARREST

Gave the Name of Richard Norton But Later Admitted His Identity; Caseement Broke Down and Cried When Told That Two of Confederates Were Drowned.

LONDON, May 16.—John McCarthy, a farmer, upset the plans for Sir Roger Caseement's Irish rebellion, it was revealed at the trial today. McCarthy, not a secret service man, caused the knight's capture. He testified in a rich brogue that he was walking on the beach near Tralee when he noticed a boat floating toward the shore. He saw fresh footprints, and growing suspicious, notified the barracks. The police scattered along the coast and found Caseement in an old fort. He gave the name of Richard Norton and protested his arrest.

Sergeant Hearne said that as Caseement was being taken to the barracks, he dropped a paper containing the phrase: "Await further instructions. I have decided to stay. Further ammunition and rifles are needed. Send another ship."

Sergeant Butler escorted Caseement to a Dublin train where he broke down and sobbed when informed that two of his confederates had been drowned. A Scotland Yard inspector testified that Caseement admitted his identity upon his arrival at the London station.

Mary Gorman identified Caseement as one of the three men whom she saw landing from a collapsible boat on the coast of Ireland. During the testimony the prisoner moved about in his seat uneasily, stroking his hair and beard and twitching his head. His eyes never left the faces of the witnesses.

Constable Reilly actually arrested Caseement. He testified that upon searching the prisoner he found a German memorandum covering Caseement's recent travels in Germany. Hartin Collins had driving a pony cart which officers commandeered to drive Caseement to Tralee, identified the defendant.

Youth Runs Away for 3rd Time in Last Six Months

NINE-YEAR-OLD HERBERT WEST KEEPS THE LOCAL OFFICERS BUSY.

The boy was located this afternoon at the Shumway ranch near Echo and will be returned.

Nine year old Herbert West is getting to be a problem for the authorities. At any rate he provides the officers with work during dull times. For the third time now, within six months, they are making a search for him following his attempt to go forth in quest of adventure in a borrowed rig.

Some time ago he fared forth into the country on foot and, at the request of his widowed mother, the officers found him at a farm in the country. Shortly afterwards he borrowed a horse at the Telephone livery stable and started out to see the world. He got as far as the Slusher ranch at Nolin and there was stopped.

Yesterday morning he got restless again. Rev. J. M. Cornwell had driven in from Tutuilla early in the morning and had hitched his team near the Neagle blacksmith shop. On returning for it at 5 o'clock he found the buggy around the corner with both single-trees broken and the horses no where in sight. The boy was near at hand and informed the minister that his team had run away.

John Baker, who was near at hand, however, furnished the information that the boy had untied the team and started to drive away when, in turning the corner the buggy had hung up with the result that the horses broke away. They were caught around the corner and while Mr. Cornwell was securing them, the boy disappeared.

He is a good looking lad, rather chunky built and wears a neat brown suit, the trousers being knickerbockers.

Divorces were granted yesterday to the plaintiffs in the case of Della C. Hunt vs. Percy C. Hunt and Bessie Harkness vs. James Harkness.

Opera Singer Who Charmed Kaiser Arrested As a Spy

COUNTESS MARIA LABIA

MILAN, May 16.—Countess Maria Labia, noted opera singer, is under arrest today on a charge of espionage made by Italian authorities. She is a member of one of the oldest families in Venice.

Countess Labia made her operatic debut in Germany twelve years ago under the auspices and protection of the kaiser, whose admiration of her created a sensation in Italy. Until the war began she frequently sang in the Komische Oper in Berlin, where she was patronized by the crown prince, who seemed to have supplanted his royal father in her affections.

Countess Labia sang in the Manhattan Opera House, New York, in the fall and winter of 1908, under the management of Oscar Hammerstein. Her dark Italian beauty and excellent voice made her a favorite, but a quarrel with Hammerstein caused her to refuse ever to return. She was then twenty-three years old, and she declared that her sole ambition was to be a singer as long as she lived—that her only loves were her voice and her birthplace, Venice.

American Cavalry After Band Which Attacked Troops

RENEWED VILLISTA ACTIVITIES SEEM TO SPRING UP IN SECTIONS.

EL PASO, May 16.—American cavalry are hotly pursuing 70 Villistas who sought refuge in the mountains of the Rio Grande when it approached the Rubio ranch to buy provisions. It was believed that the withdrawal of the American expedition from San Antonio was the signal for renewed Villista activities. It was reported that Villa had recovered from his wounds and again was concentrating his men in the Durango mountains. Ten thousand Americans will soon be concentrated at Durban where munitions are piled high in anticipation of heavy rains.

5th District of Woodmen of World Meets at Athena

ANNUAL GATHERING TO CON-VENE TOMORROW; INITIATION IN EVENING.

The twelfth annual convention of the fifth district of the Pacific Jurisdiction, Woodmen of the World, will be held tomorrow at Athena and the Pendleton camp will send up a big delegation. The district comprises all of the counties of eastern Oregon except Lake and Klamath.

The convention will open with a session at 10:30 a. m. W. H. Keen of the Athena camp, will make the call to order. Mayor H. L. Watts will make the address of welcome and Judge Thos. Fitz Gerald of Pendleton camp will make the response. Temporary officers will be chosen at the morning session and committees appointed.

In the afternoon at 2 o'clock the second session will be held. The order of business includes the report of the credential committee, the election of permanent officers and delegates to the head camp, the selection of the next place of meeting, reports of committees and "good of the order." In the evening a joint camp meeting will be held with an initiation followed by a banquet.

150 PASSENGERS FALL EASY PREY TO BANDIT BAND

Mexican Outlaws Reported to Have Set Car Afire Burning to Death All the Occupants.

TRAIN GUARD SLAUGHTERED

Survivors Reach Mexico City; Zapatistas Reported to Have Wrecked Another Train and Robbed Passengers; Much Carranza Money is Taken by Outlaws.

SAN ANTONIO, May 19.—Carranzistas today threatened to cross the border at Douglas to retrieve 3000 cattle because the Americans refused to pass them under the Mexican export duty. The de facto troops were threatening to drive back the stock when an American force appeared. The Mexicans decided to remain on their own side of the line.

General Davis, commanding the Douglas forces, discredited the reports of an imminent clash. Customs officials are guarding the cattle, awaiting the veterinarian inspection. Calles has sent a protest to Washington.

LAREDO, Texas, May 16.—Mexican bandits burned to death 150 passengers in one car and wiped out the guard who were guarding a train with nearly 1000 aboard at Ayuso, near Mexico City, it was reported. Survivors were reported to have reached Mexico City.

Earlier report said that five Mexicans were killed. An American named Hill was robbed of $500 in gold when Zapatistas wrecked a train between Palma Gonzalez and Queretaro Friday. No Americans were injured. All were robbed except Charles Douglas. It was believed that the reports refer to different wrecks.

William Rosendale of Chicago, has arrived at Eagle Pass with details of the wreck. He reported that $26,000 in silver was taken from the express car and the Carranza paymaster robbed of $26,000 in paper. Rosendale took refuge in a private car belonging to Douglas which the bandits did not molest. He said that Douglas had twenty million dollars of the new Carranza currency. A burned trestle caused the wreck. The engine and tender plunged into the gap but the main part of the train remained on the rails. The Zapatistas immediately swarmed into the train shouting viva Villa. They fired at the windows, and then lined up and robbed the passengers. A coal car took the survivors to Culiacan. They fled further when fighting was reported at Chamacuero.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—As a result of Scott's report, cabinet members believe that a satisfactory agreement with Mexico probably has been reached. The Mexican crisis probably will simmer like the German situation. Only time is needed to completely clear up the border issues. Scott was convinced that Oregon was completely satisfied with the American army's status regarding the punitive expedition. The papers have been submitted to the president and his advisors and included a transcript of the Scott-Oregon conversations.

This indicated a desire on the part of Carranza and Oregon to cooperate with the Americans. The Tampico situation, however is causing uneasiness. Scott said that Oregon was first suspicious, fearing that Americans intended to remain in Mexico. Oregon left El Paso however convinced that America's only object was to suppress banditry. He agreed to many military movements which will aid the Americans, including sending 10,000 of his best troops to patrol the Big Bend and Parral districts.

SUNSET LIMITED IS WRECKED; MEXICANS BELIEVED TO BLAME

SPIKES ARE FOUND TO HAVE BEEN TORN FROM RAILS NEAR EL PASO.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Five passengers and two diner employees were injured when an east bound Sunset Limited was derailed east of El Paso this morning. It was officially announced. Five cars were overturned. A broken rail was the cause. The railroad's account did not mention Mexicans as being responsible.

How the British Battleships Routed the Rebels

RUINS ON EDEN QUAY

This picture shows the ruins along Eden Quay, Dublin, looking from the famous O'Connell statue, where the heaviest fighting of the rebellion took place. These buildings were rebel strongholds which were taken only after the guns from the warships had reduced them almost to ruins.

Polling Places Are Named

Deputy Sheriff J. A. Blakely has completed the selection of polling places for the 14 Pendleton precincts. Because of the changes made in the boundary lines of the old precincts and the creation of new precincts voters should take the precaution of finding out the proper polling places before Friday. The following are the polling places:

Precinct 32—Alta House.
Precinct 33—D. B. Waffle garage on Lewis street.
Precinct 34—J. W. Maloney garage on South Main.
Precinct 35—Lane Paint Shop on Mill street.
Precinct 36—City hall.
Precinct 37—Falling Bldg. Main street.
Precinct 38—Bowman Hotel.
Precinct 39—Office Dutch Henry Feed Yard.
Precinct 40—Dr. Temple garage, West Court street.
Precinct 41—Frank Pedro garage on West Alta.
Precinct 42—Hawthorne school.
Precinct 43—Christian church.

Want Democrats to Write Raley, Reeves and Scott on Ballot

An effort is being made by local democrats to have voters write in the names of J. R. Raley and W. T. Reeves for democratic nominees for representatives from this county, J. N. Scott for joint representative, and three other candidates for county offices.

As a result of a caucus held here several days ago a circular has been sent out to a number of democratic voters. It reads as follows:

We are depending on you to see that in your precinct the following names are written in on ballot at primary election Friday, May 19th, and that your precinct elects a committeeman: No. X Joe Scott, joint representative. No. X J. Roy Raley, representative. No. X W. T. Reeves, representative. No. X W. S. Howard, Co. School Supt. No. X F. B. Hayes, county surveyor. No. X Geo. D. Peebler, coroner.

Be sure and put a cross between candidate's name and number on ballot.

GERMANS READY TO LAUNCH NEW ATTACK ON RIGA

Kiel Fleet, Including New Super-dreadnaughts, are Reported on Way to the Russian Port.

HINDENBURG'S TROOPS BUSY

Great Activity Is Being Shown by Land Forces; Drive Is Anticipated; Italians Also Preparing for Great Offensive Against the Austrians Near Trent.

LONDON, May 16.—Copenhagen reported that the Germans are preparing to launch a sea and land campaign against Riga. The Kiel fleet, including the latest super dreadnaughts, have sailed for Riga. Von Hindenburg's forces are manifesting great activity.

ROME, May 16.—The Austrians have abandoned their advanced positions at Rovereto, evidently expecting a strong Italian offensive at Trent. Villages have been cleared of non-combatants. Three hundred thousand Austrians are concentrated on the Trentino-Tyrol front.

The Austrians are dragging guns into the mountains and constructing rock barriers. The Italians are improving their positions at Rovereto. Artillery is wrecking the Austrian defenses as fast as they are constructed. A communique detailed that the last two months of operations, including the recent Leonzo offensive, prevented the Austrians from reinforcing the Germans at Verdun. The Italians have captured 120 men, two field guns, 17 machine guns and destroyed 18 aeroplanes.

Lack of Funds is Reason for Local Team Disbanding

NO ORGANIZED EFFORT HAS BEEN MADE HERE TO FINANCE BALL CLUB.

Though the Pendleton team of the Blue Mountain League advanced to first place in the percentage column by the victory Sunday over Pilot Rock it was disbanded yesterday by Manager McGarrigle and there will be no more team from this city in the league unless some one takes the initiative in providing proper financial support.

Manager McGarrigle has been running the team on a "shootring" all season due to the fact that no organized effort was made to finance the club. Mr. McGarrigle himself secured about $100 but that money has been used up and he refuses to shoulder any more of the financial burden.

It is estimated that about $200 will be needed to finish the schedule and this amount would be comparatively easy to raise if any effort were made at all. The Commercial association practically assumed this task but has done little to date.

The team that played Sunday is the best amateur team Pendleton has ever had and would make a strong bid for the pennant. Pilot Rock, Weston and Echo are ready to complete the season and it is now Pendleton's move.

QUESTION OF OWNERSHIP OF WHISKEY BEFORE COURT

BARREL SEIZED IN ROOMING HOUSE BY SHERIFF BONE OF CONTENTION.

Whether or not the 52 gallon barrel of liquor, seized last February in the Mrs. Jim Harris rooming house by Sheriff Taylor, was there in violation of the prohibition law is being argued this afternoon before Circuit Judge Phelps on an appeal from the decision of Justice of the Peace Parkes. The justice held that the liquor could not be properly forfeited and destroyed under the law.

The principal facts in the case were stipulated. The raid on the rooming house was made on a Saturday night and several arrests made. Those arrested pleaded guilty to conducting a public nuisance under the prohibition law and claimed all of the liquor retted except the barrel of whiskey. Walter Mountain, son-in-law of Mrs. Harris, laid claim to that and stated he had stored it there for his own use.

District Attorney Steiner placed on the stand this afternoon. Deputy Sheriff J. A. Blakely who testified
